

In the morning of Saturday, 24 March, we went to Brussels to spend the last day with the foreign students and to say goodbye to them. When we arrived in Brussels, we first attended 2 very interesting conferences on migrations. Then, we went for lunch. After lunch, we visited Brussels city centre. We saw the cathedral St Michael and St Gudula of the city, and the «Manneken Pis»... Later, in the afternoon, we left the Turkish, Norwegians, Greeks and the Italians at their hotel. It was a very moving moment. Some people cried. And we took the Polish students and their teachers to their hotel in Charleroi and finally, we went back to our school, with many emotions. It was the last day with our new friends and that was very moving. They returned to their countries. on the next day.
